Shawn Quinn -- #1 woman in world

By Jody Latham

Shawn Quinn, who took up bridge as "something to do with my mom," has become the top-ranked woman in the world, according to the World Bridge Federation, replacing Jill Meyers, who spent most of 2000 at the top of the list.

Quinn received an email Oct. 22 from WBF President Jose Damiani:

It is a great pleasure for me to congratulate you on becoming the top woman player in the world with 2698 MP, in front of Sabine Auken (2676 MP) and Jill Meyers (2598 MP).

It's been a swift rise to the top for Quinn, who says, "I think I'm very lucky to have excellent partners and teammates."

She was born in Phoenix and grew up in Southern California, where she attended the University of California at Irvine and Western State University School of Law. Both parents, the late Gwen and Carroll Womack, were Life Masters, and Shawn began playing in 1981 with her mother.

"That was really, really enjoyable," she says. "I have a lot of nice memories from that time."

She took lessons from Ron Vickery and began playing in tournaments. "I always played in Flight A as a matter of pride," says Quinn. "My parents didn't think much of flighting."

Quinn became a Life Master in 1987 and met Joe Quinn, a chemical engineer originally from Shreveport LA, two years later. The two became involved – both romantically and at the bridge table, where they won 10 regional championships in the first two years they played together.

By the summer of 1992, Quinn "started getting serious about bridge. Joe encouraged me – he thought I would do well."

At the 1992 Fall NABC in Orlando, Quinn and Jan Cohen led from start to finish in capturing the Life Master Women's Pairs. It was the first North American championship for the two, who had been playing together only a few weeks.

At the 1993 Fall NABC in Seattle, Quinn and Cohen teamed with Juanita Chambers, Margie Gwozdzinsky and GerriAnne Klawter to win the Women's Board-a-Match Teams.

Quinn scored a double win in Seattle when she and Joe teamed with Alan Le Bendig and Tom Clarke to win the North American Swiss Teams.

Quinn and Cohen – playing with Chambers, Rhoda Kratenstein and Hjordis Eythorsdottir – won the Women's Swiss Teams at the 1994 Spring NABC

Meyers-Garner top LM Open qualifiers

Jill Meyers and Steve Garner, playing together for the first time, lead 112 qualifiers into today's final two sessions of the Life Master Open Pairs.

Meyers and Garner posted a two-session total of 1168.50, less than a board ahead of Mike Cappelletti and Gary Cohler who had 1118.50 (top on a board was 64). They were the only pairs to top 1100.

Tornay-Haberman ahead in LM Women's

Claire Tornay and Barbara Haberman take a slender 49-point lead into today's final two sessions of the Life Master Women's Pairs.

The two scored 1266.50 during yesterday's two qualifying sessions. Second were Barbara Lesser-Adrienne Green with 1217.41, followed closely by Gloria Silverman-Bernace DeYoung, who scored 1217.00. Kathie Wei-Sender-Juanita Chambers were next with 1211.50.

Bryant-Weinberg lead Non-LMs

Marcia Bryant of Southern Pines NC and Richard Weinberg of Pinehurst NC hold a 3-point lead going into today's Non-Life Master Pairs final.

Janet Weyant

Janet Weyant, 69, of Cincinnati died on Nov. 4 after a four-year battle with cancer.

Weyant, an avid bridge player until illness forced her to quit, had 14,306 points, which put her at #81 among the top 100 ACBL players. She won more than 50 regional championships. She also served a term on the ACBL Board of Governors.

She came from a bridge-playing family. Her father, Jacques Achs, was an expert in setting up special movements for duplicate games.

She leaves her husband William, who served the ACBL for many years as an associate national tournament director. Now retired, he is taking advantage of his opportunity to play bridge often.

Weyant also leaves two sons, a daughter and five grandchildren.

ACBL Online set to debut next month

ACBL Online, which will offer much more than just an Internet bridge game, will be up and running next month. If you want to preview the package, a first-ever look at ACBL Online is available here at the Fall NABC in Birmingham.

Look for the ACBL Online booth in East Exhibit Hall 3 to see the new service and meet ACBL Online project manager Kent Burghard. As more details on the debut of ACBL Online become available, they will be posted on ACBL's website: www.acbl.org

The new service is hosted by e-bridge, a company with headquarters in New York City and development offices in Israel.

Pricing has not been established, but ACBL members will receive substantial discounts.

ACBL Online will feature rubber bridge for fun and duplicate bridge for masterpoints, with games available for all levels of players and "rooms" for 49ers, 299ers and experts. Bridge robots will fill the table if you just want to practice. ACBL Online will let you claim, "undo" and fill out a convention card.

Beyond those services, ACBL Online will provide:

- Online vugraph of major ACBL and World Bridge Federation events.
- Hands from major events that users can play and score against the actual results.
- Bridge columns by luminaries such as Zia Mahmood, Mike Lawrence, Eric Kokish, Bobby

Speakers help newcomers learn

About 75 people lean forward as Jerry Helms writes out a bridge hand and advises, "Good bids are bids that most resemble the cards you actually hold."

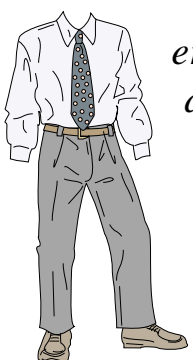

Helms, a Charlotte NC bridge teacher, bridge club owner and professional player, is one of 19 players and/or teachers who will be part of the Intermediate-Newcomer Speakers Program during the Fall NABC.

"Think and then bid," says Helms, as several players nod their heads. "Bidding is a language restricted to 15 words – one through seven, clubs, diamonds, hearts, spades, notrump, double and redouble. Duplicate players add two more: 'Alert' and 'Director'.

ZT update

The Zero Tolerance program, started in Ontario clubs more than four years ago, is going strong and receiving credit for an exodus of players from intermediate games into open games.

Barbara Seagram, owner/manager of Kate Buckman's Bridge Studio in Toronto, says ZT "has made such a huge difference. We have always provided our less-experienced players with a separate room in which to play, along with their own director.

"This has made for an expensive but flourishing newcomer/intermediate program. The downside was that the players got so comfortable there that they were petrified at the idea of moving into the open game in the big room."

ZT has changed that, according to Seagram. "Over the past two years, the atmosphere has improved so dramatically among the open players that there has been a huge exodus from the intermediate games into the open games. We have had to hand out very few scoring penalties for Zero Tolerance, but the fact that the policy is in place seems to keep the players in line. The perception that we are monitoring behavior at all times makes everyone happier. The players now never hesitate to report unpleasantness whereas before they considered it part of the game that they had to tolerate."

Seagram added, "We have had to ask several players to take a vacation from our club. They must be subjected to an interview with us before they are permitted to return. The bad ones don't."

How Romania won the Internet battle

Both Romania and the United States had many chances to better their fortunes in the final of the Internet World Bridge Championship here Thursday. However, players on both teams appeared quite nervous, and sometimes the bridge was not as scintillating as one would expect in the final of a world championship.

After falling behind in the first quarter, the Romanians got their game together, and they outdistanced the Americans in the second and third quarters. America held its own in the fourth quarter, but that was not nearly enough – Romania is the new world Internet champion.

Here are some of the hands that made the difference.

João Campos, a Brazilian internationalist who was a member of the American team, led a club to J.T. McKee's ace, and McKee continued with a club to the King. Alexandre Feber, playing from his home in Paris, France, drove out the ace of trumps and passed the ♦10. McKee could see that, if he took his king, declarer could cross to dummy with the ♥A and run enough diamonds to make his contract – so he ducked! But Feber still led a heart to the ace, and when the king fell when he cashed the ♦A, he suddenly had 11 tricks – plus 450.

Table 2	West	North	East	South

(1) Shows the majors.

The auction was totally different here because Darin Musat opened with a weak notrump. Richard Reisig bid 2♦ to show the majors, and his wife Raija duly arrived in a spade game, playing from the short side. Serban Criscota found a most annoying lead – the trump ace followed by a second spade. Raija crossed to the ♦A and led the ♦Q. Musat covered perforce, and Raija ruffed. She crossed to the ♥A and cashed the ♦J, Musat discarding instead of ruffing and declarer pitching the ♣J. Next came a heart to the king and a heart ruff.

But declarer had run out of options. She led a club, and Musat won the ace and led a second club. Declarer could not afford to ruff with her last trump because she was not in control, so she discarded a heart. Criscota took the ♣Q and continued the suit. Partner ruffed and Raija overruffed with dummy's last trump. But she was left with a losing heart, so she wound up losing a trump, a heart and two clubs for down one – minus 50. That was 11 IMPs to Romania.

Silent auction

A number of articles are on display near the registration area in the Civic Center. They are the subject of a silent auction that ends at the close of play tonight. The top written bid on each item will win the item. A Joe Namath football, lots of artwork and gift certificates are among other items being offered.

The United States team, better known as the Florida Kees, finished second in the second annual OKbridge Internet World Bridge Championship. Left to right: J.T. McKee, João Campos, Benito Garozzo, Lea Dupont, Reija Reisig and Richard Reisig.

(1) Transfer to hearts

The Americans were unlucky on this one. McKee's hand sure looks strong enough to take some sort of action, and 3♣ looks like the most attractive bid. But he found Feber with a club stack, and there was no way McKee could escape losing six tricks for minus 300.

Table 2	West	North	East	South
	Garozzo	Criscota	Dupont	Musat
	Dbl	1♣	Pass	Pass

Since his hand was too strong for a weak notrump, Criscota opened with 1♣. When Musat passed, Benito Garozzo, the many-time world champion from Italy who is now an American citizen, had an easy double. Lea Dupont responded 1♦, and Garozzo showed his powerful hand by bidding 1NT. Of course Dupont passed. Nothing worked, so Garozzo had to settle for down one. That was 7 IMPs to Romania.

Does the South hand qualify as an opening bid? Popescu believed it did, and of course Feber made sure his side got to game. McKee could have been a hero by attacking clubs, but that certainly does not look attractive on his holding. He actually led a diamond, and after winning the ♦J, Popescu went after hearts, losing to the queen. There was still time for the club switch, but McKee decided it was time to go after spades, so he led the king. This gave declarer plenty of time to knock out the ♥A, and he wound up with 10 tricks.

Dupont did not think the South hand called for an opening bid, so Garozzo decided to pass after Dupont showed a little extra strength with a fourth-round jump to 3♥. Dupont made her contract, but that still was a 10-IMP loss.

After McKee muddied the bidding with his 2♣ bid, Feber passed, hoping for something good to happen. Campos raised to 3♠, and Feber decided to double – he would have been happy if partner could find a pass. But Popescu bid his five-card diamond suit, and Feber decided to take no further action with only a doubleton diamond. With the cards lying so well, Popescu took 12 tricks.

	Pass	3NT	All Pass

(1) Forcing partner to rebid 3♣. (2) Forced response. (3) Shortness in a major suit. (4) Which suit? (5) Spades.

Garozzo was happy to bid the notrump game when he discovered his partner's shortness was in spades. The defense opened hearts, and Garozzo had to make his first decision immediately. If the ♦K was in the East hand, he had to win the first heart so his ♥J would be protected against a heart continuation. But if West had the ♦K, he had to hold off till the third round. He guessed right – he held up, cashed the ♦A and led a diamond to West's king. Musat switched to the ♠10, and Garozzo took his ace.

At this point, Garozzo could make it home if he cashed the ♠K – the queen would fall and he wouldn't need the club to finesse. But Garozzo couldn't see this, so he took a club finesse to the queen. He hoped East had the doubleton ♣K, and his plan was to cash the ♣A and throw West in with the jack. West would be forced to lead a spade, and Garozzo would have his game. But East had the third club, and he still had a heart to cash for down one. 7 IMPs to Romania.

in Cincinnati.

By 1995, Quinn and Cohen's partnership had ended. "I really enjoyed playing with Jan," says Quinn, "but we had different goals."

Quinn, Chambers, Lila Perlstein, Gail Greenberg, Jill Levin and Irina Levitina won the Women's Knockout Teams at the 1995 Summer NABC in New Orleans -- the first of three consecutive KO wins for Quinn with three different teams.

The following year, Shawn and Joe were married and moved to Katy TX, a Houston suburb.

On the bridge front, Quinn's squad (minus Perlstein, who died of cancer in March of that year) won the Women's International Team Trials and the right to represent the United States in the World Women's Team Olympiad in Rhodes, Greece. They added Lynn Deas and won the event -- "I had played in Albuquerque but this was really my first world championship," says Quinn.

The 1998 world championships were scheduled for Lille, France, but regular partners were unavailable and Quinn and Jill Meyers decided to play. "I went out to California a couple of weeks before the world championships to see if we could work out a partnership," recalls Quinn.

The result: Quinn and Meyers, playing with Tobi Sokolow-Jo Ann Sprung and Carol Sanders-Dorothy Truscott, finished 3-4 in the McConnell Women's Teams and won the World Women's Pairs.

Later that year, Quinn formed a partnership with fellow Texan Mildred Breed. To date, the pair has enjoyed great success: three North American championships and the 2000 World Women's Olympiad. "I am really enjoying the partnership with Mildred," says Quinn. "We've worked pretty hard on our system."

"The card gods have been very kind to us," says Breed. "It's been a great two years. Shawn is very enjoyable to play with. The best thing about Shawn is that no matter what happens on a board, she's right in there on the next one."

By the spring of 1999, the two were members of the all-Texas team (Petra Hamman-Peggy Sutherland, Joan Jackson-Robin Klar) that won the Women's Swiss Teams, finished third-fourth in the Wagar Women's Knockout Teams and third in the Women's BAM. So far this year they have finished fourth in the Women's Swiss Teams and second in the Wagar Women's Knockout Teams.

Because of a prior commitment, Quinn was unable to play with this team at the 1999 WITT. Her squad (Quinn playing with Renee Mancuso, Meyers playing with Randi Montin and Sokolow playing with Janice Seamon-Molson) won the WITT and finished second (by half an IMP) in the 2000 Venice Cup.

Quinn was back with the all-Texas team for the 2000 WITT. They won the event and the right to represent the U.S. at World Women's Olympiad in Maastricht, Netherlands. The U.S. defeated Canada in the final and Quinn had her third world gold medal.

Bob Hamman, who made his debut as a non-playing captain at the WITT and continued as npc in Maastricht, says Quinn and Breed "are very good players and very resilient in that they bounce back."

"The key to all this is how bad you are when you're bad, not how good you are when you're good. We expected we'd have a good chance to win in Holland, and we did. They played the most and were the key pair on the team. They're easy to work with, both of them, and they made being a captain easy. After all, I'm unbeaten as a captain -- I'm not unbeaten as a player."

Of her two Olympiad wins, Quinn says, "I don't think you can compare them" but adds, "It's a lot more fun about a month after the event is over."

Once an event begins, she sticks to a meticulous regime: no dinners out, get plenty of rest, etc. "I try to be prepared and I try to keep myself in shape to compete. I feel that I always have a chance."

"I like to play a lot of conventions but I don't want to play more conventions than my partner is comfortable with. It's important to establish what's forcing and what's not forcing. I work hard on defense. I make a real effort to help partner."

While Quinn plays primarily with Breed in national and international competition, she plays with Joe at local clubs once a week and at Texas tournaments. Joe's regular partner in national events is fellow Texan Ira Hessel.

Bridge aside, Quinn spends most of her time these days working with winbridge.com helping to overhaul the site and graphics. The online bridge game -- with 13,000 members in more than 100 countries -- offers enhanced graphics plus tournaments and teaching.

Newcomers Continued from page 1

"These words are used to resolve only two issues -- level and denomination. The opening bidder should, within two bids, show whether his hand is minimum (13-15 high-card points), medium (16-18) or maximum (19-20)."

Helms writes out a bridge hand:

♠x x x ♥x x x ♦A K x ♣A K Q x

"The reflex action here is to open 1♣," he says, "but what do you rebid when partner responds 1♥ or 1♠? This is a classic 1NT bid because there is no rebid to describe this hand."

The players nod in agreement and Helms writes out another hand:

♠Q x ♥K Q x x x ♦A Q x ♣K x x

"Open 1♥?" he asks. The players nod again. "But what do you do when partner bids 1♠? If you rebid 1NT, you show 13-15 points and if you rebid 2NT, you show 19-20. Open 1NT. You may lose the heart suit but if the auction begins 1♥-1♠, you have no rebid to show this hand."

This scene -- players interrupting the speakers to ask questions, waiting to ask more questions after the "official" speech is completed -- will be repeated during the remainder of the NABC as players in the Intermediate-Newcomer area compete for masterpoints and trophies.

Friday featured the first Easybridge! games at an NABC. Birmingham players scored a sweep in the afternoon as Betty Bashinsky and Ann B. Lambert were first overall in Strat A (0-20) and Jane Hardin and Joyce Page won Strat B (0-5).

In addition to the EB game, the afternoon session included 25 I-N tables and 12 tables of Non-Life Master Pairs, a nationally rated event.

The evening session also drew impressive numbers: 8 tables in the 299er Swiss Teams, 5.5 EB tables, 13 in the 0-300 Pairs, 6 in the 49er Pairs and 12 tables in the Non-LM Pairs, playing their second session.

Wolff and more.

- Bidding contests.
- Bridge news from around the world.

The duplicate games will be conducted by ACBL tournament directors, and the Zero Tolerance policy will be in effect.

All of the services mentioned will be available to all during an initial free-trial period. After the free period has ended, these services will be available only to ACBL Online members.

To enjoy ACBL Online, you must have a computer with an 800x600 monitor and Windows 95 or later. Macintosh users with Windows emulators will also be able to participate.

The ACBL is offering the new service because more and more people are learning about bridge through the Internet. With a presence on the Internet, the ACBL hopes to attract a substantial number of these players to face-to-face games and to other ACBL products and services.

More than other on-line services, the ACBL is motivated to provide online users with information about bridge clubs, tournaments and teachers in their areas.

Over time, ACBL Online can also provide additional revenue for the ACBL, which could help keep dues low and provide additional services to members.

Goodwill message

Today is Junior Day, the day we celebrate -- and salute -- our Junior players. These players, ages 25 and younger, are the future of ACBL. Encourage them. Today's Junior player is tomorrow's Jeff Meckstroth.

Aileen Osofsky, Chairman

National Goodwill Committee

15 years later

By Larry Cohen

In the 1985 Team Trials I was the victim of one of the best defensive plays of all time. In a well-documented deal, Bob Hamman refused to overruff dummy and thereby gained trump control. His play resulted in 7 extra IMPs in a match that his team won by 5.

It took 15 years, but in the first session of the LM Open Pairs, my partner, David Berkowitz put me on the winning side of such a defensive ploy:

Dlr:	♠ Q 9 8 2
Vul:	♥ 7 4
	♦ K Q J 7 2
	♣ K 6
	♠ K J 10 7 4 3	♠ A
	♥ A 9 8 5 2	♥ J 6 3
	♦ 5	♦ 10 6 4 3
	♣ A	♣ Q 9 8 4 3
		♠ 6 5
		♥ K Q 10
		♦ A 9 8
		♣ J 10 7 5 2
West	North	East	South
Cohen		Berkowitz
1♠	Pass	1NT	Pass
4♥	All Pass

West's 4♥ bid might not be to everyone's taste, but the final contract was fine. I led diamonds and declarer ruffed the second round. He cashed the ♠A and crossed to the ♣A to play the ♠K and then the ♠J in this position:

	♠ Q 9
	♥ 7 4
	♦ Q J 7
	♣ K
♠ J 10 7 4		♠ --
♥ A 8 5		♥ J 6 3
♦ --		♦ 10 6
♣ --		♣ Q 9 8
	♠ --
	♥ K Q 10
	♣ J 10 7 5

I followed with the ♠9, and declarer would have succeeded had he guessed to discard from dummy. But spades could have been 3-3, so he ruffed.

Now came the moment of truth. Declarer had ruffed with dummy's ♥J, but even if the ruff was with a small heart, it wouldn't have made a difference. In either case, if David makes the normal-looking play of overruffing, the defense is finished. Let's see what happens if David overruffs. This would be the position with South on play:

	♠ Q
	♥ 7 4
	♦ Q J 7
	♣ K
♠ 10 7 4		♠ --
♥ A 9 8 5		♥ 6 3
♦ --		♦ 10 6
♣ --		♣ Q 9 8
	♠ --
	♥ K 10
	♣ J 10 7 5

Declarer ruffs David's minor-suit return and ruffs another spade in dummy. Declarer would still have the ♥A98. David could overruff this fourth round of spades, but the declarer would be in full control. Even if David pitched on the fourth round of spades, declarer could play a heart to the ace and another heart to make his contract.

Now, back to the position where dummy ruffed the ♠J with the jack. Emulating Hamman's famous play, David discarded a club! Now the defense was in control. Declarer played a heart to his ace and ruffed another spade in dummy in this position:

Sulligent's size

(This story, attributed to Charles Goren, appeared in the October 1993 issue of The Bridge Bulletin.)

I remember so many people who all but lived for bridge, who would almost have curled up and withered away if they hadn't been able to play. Most of them found it difficult even to express themselves in non-bridge terms away from the table.

There was a young man who introduced himself to me and said he was from Sulligent, Alabama.

"Sulligent, Alabama?" I said. "How big is Sulligent?"

"Oh," he said, "about four tables."

	♠ Q
	♥ 7
	♦ Q J 7
	♣ K
♠ 10 7 4		♠ --
♥ 9 8 5		♥ 6
♦ --		♦ 10 6
♣ --		♣ Q 9 8
	♠ --
	♥ K Q
	♣ J 10 7

Again, if David had overruffed, declarer would have been in control (he could ruff any return and play a trump). So, David pitched again, this time a diamond.

Finally, the defense could rest. Declarer ruffed a club to his hand, but he was doomed. If he played a trump, David would draw all the trumps and get a club trick at the end. Declarer played a winning spade, but I ruffed with the H7 and David still had the ♥KQ for a hard-fought down one.

Goldilocks and Board 13

By Barry Rigal

When Goldilocks and her three companions finished competing in the Charity Bears Game, they met for a remedial glass of mead at the Honey Pot (Baby Bear had just honey and lemon, in case you were worried about underage drinking).

Goldilocks drew the three bears' attention to Board 13 of the night's game. "I was sitting North," she said, "and I heard my partner double 1♥. My right-hand opponent raised to 2♥ and I passed, but when my partner reopened with 3♣, I bid 3NT. On the ♥J lead, I won the ♥K and ran all my clubs and they had to defend well to stop the overtrick."

This was the full deal:

	♠ 9 7 4
	♥ K Q 4
	♦ Q 10 5
	♣ 10 7 4 2
♠ K 10 8 6 2		♠ Q J 5
♥ 9 3 2		♥ A J 10 8 7
♦ 8 6 4		♦ K J 7 2
♣ J 5		♣ 9
	♠ A 3
	♥ 6 5
	♦ A 9 3
	♣ A K Q 8 6 3

"You were lucky," said Daddy Bear. "I was West and when the auction went 1♥-Dbl to me, I bid 1♠. My partner raised to 2♠ and when South bid 3♣, North bid 3NT. On a spade lead, there was no real pressure. Declarer took the second spade and ran the clubs but my partner pitched all his hearts except the ace and we set the contract a trick."

"You were lucky," said Mummy Bear. "This is how the auction went when I was South:

West	North	East	South
	Pass	1♥	Dbl
1♠	Pass	2♠	3♣
Pass	3♥	Pass	3♠
Pass	4♣	All Pass

"I could see the danger of our having only eight tricks on a spade lead, so I gambled with 3♠ to make sure my partner's heart honors were protected. Anyway, we finished in 4♣ which turned out to be a Goldilocks contract – not too high, not too low, just right. On a heart lead to the ace and a spade shift, I won and drew trumps, then eliminated the heart suit and exited with a second spade.

"In this ending:

	♥ --
	♦ Q 10 5
	♣ 10 7
♠ K 10 8		♠ J
♥ --		♥ 8 7
♦ 8 6 4		♦ K J 7
♣ --		♣ --
	♠ --
	♥ --
	♦ A 9 3
	♣ Q 8 6

"East could only exit with his third spade. I ruffed, crossed to a trump and passed the ♦Q as a 100% line for plus 130."

"You were lucky," said Baby Bear bitterly. "We also bid spades and persuaded our opponents to play 4♣. On the heart lead, I could see the danger of the endplay, and as East I ducked the first heart. Now declarer could not manage the timing as easily.

"He drew trumps and led a second heart. I won and got out with a spade. Declarer took this to lead a second spade and I won to play a third spade. Declarer ruffed, went to dummy to eliminate the hearts and had to lead diamonds from his hand.

"Alas, when he led a diamond to the 10, I won the jack and still could not escape conceding minus 130. I guess I was endplayed too."

"But only bearly," consoled Goldilocks.

Birmingham Tours

A tour of the Birmingham Art Museum is scheduled to begin at 9:45 a.m. Saturday. Cost of the tour is $5.

This is the largest municipal museum in the Southeast featuring a permanent collection of more than 17,000 works of art and a multi-level sculpture garden. The cost of the ticket includes $5 toward lunch in the Garden Café.

The next tours are scheduled for Tuesday, Nov. 21. Both begin at 9:30 a.m. and both cost $5.

A tour of the Civil Rights Museum takes you back in time to a turbulent period in Birmingham's history. The museum is located across from the 16th Street Baptist Church, site of an infamous bombing.

The other tour is the kitchen where mouth-watering recipes, featured in Southern Living magazine and Cooking Light magazine, are tested.

Food treats

Pairs who play in Saturday's Stratified Senior Pairs - Meeting Rooms GH&I - will be offered ice cream bars when play concludes about 6 p.m.

The late-night treat is chicken fingers, fruit and cheese, served in the East Exhibit Hall lobby.

Juices and Danish will be offered Sunday beginning at 8:30 a.m. in the East Exhibit Hall, and the same menu will be offered beginning at 9:30 a.m. in Meeting Rooms GH&I.

The late-night treat is pecan pie, served in the East Exhibit Hall lobby.
